Back Lot Music released the digital soundtrack album for The Huntsman: Winter's War, the story before Snow White, it was announced on April 15, 2016. The soundtrack includes new music by eight-time Academy Award-nominated composer James Newton Howard, as well as Halsey's 'Castle (The Huntsman: Winter's War Version)'. The song is prominently featured in campaign, as well as the film itself. A physical version of the album will release on 4/22 to coincide with the release of the film in theaters nationwide. A vinyl version will be released by Music on Vinyl this summer.

One of the most versatile and respected composers currently working in film, James Newton Howard's career spans 30 years. He has composed music for more than 120 films, including the Academy Award-nominated scores for 'Defiance', 'Michael Clayton', 'The Village', 'The Fugitive', 'The Prince of Tides' and 'My Best Friend's Wedding', and Academy Award-nominated songs for 'Junior' and 'One Fine Day'. James Newton Howard also received Golden Globe nominations for his massive orchestral score for Peter Jackson's blockbuster 'King Kong', his provocative symphonic score for 'Defiance', and his songs from 'Junior' and 'One Fine Day'.

Though his training was classical, Howard always maintained an interest in rock and pop music, and it was his early work in the pop arena that allowed him to hone his talents as a musician, arranger, songwriter and producer. He racked up a string of collaborations in the studio and on the road with some of pop's biggest names, including Elton John; Crosby, Stills & Nash; Barbra Streisand; Earth, Wind and Fire; Bob Seger; Rod Stewart; Toto; Glenn Frey; Diana Ross; Carly Simon; Olivia Newton-John; Randy Newman; Rickie Lee Jones; and Chaka Khan.
